

Joel Eko Budianto

Hai! I'm Joel Budianto! I'm a fresh graduate majoring in Information Systems at Tarumanagara University. I'm a person with easily adapts to new environments, and is always eager to learn new things. With experience as a media coordinator in a community, this makes me have good interpersonal skills and accustomed to working in a team and leading the team. I am also used to working under pressure and revision. I am a fast learner and responsible person. My current role as a front-end developer at PT. Pharos Indonesia has sharpened my focus on detail and instilled a careful approach in crafting high-quality applications. I have experience as a teaching assistant, copywriter, design graph, UI designer, web developer, and voice-over.
